

Richard M. Singer, M.D.

Dr. Richard M. Singer has over 40 years of orthopedic surgical skills and specializes in the complex treatment of hand and wrist.

Dr. Richard M. Singer has over 40 years of orthopedic surgical skills and specializes in the complex treatment of the hand and wrist. Dr. Singer is fellowship trained in Hand Surgery and studied under the leadership and founders of Harold E. Kleinert, M.D. and Joseph E. Kutz, M.D. at the very prestigious Christine M. Kleinert Institute (CMKI), Hand and Microsurgery, at the University of Louisville, Louisville, KY.

His vast knowledge of leading techniques and innovative surgical methods provide each patient the best foundation for their recovery. Dr. Singer enjoys sharing his orthopedic knowledge with colleagues and serves as Clinical Associate Professor at Wayne State University School of Medicine, Department of Orthopedic Surgery.

Locations

Dearborn Location

22731 Newman St., Suite 100A, Dearborn, MI 48124

Specialty

Hand and Upper Extremity Surgery
Orthopedic Surgery

Medical Education

Wayne State University School of Medicine, Detroit, MI, M.D. 1978

Residency

General Surgery Wayne State University Department of Surgery, Detroit Medical Center 1979-1980
Orthopedic Surgery, Wayne State University Department of Orthopedic Surgery Detroit Medical Center 1980-1983

Fellowship

Hand and Microsurgery Fellowship, Christine M. Kleinert Institute, Louisville, KY, 1983-1984

Board Certification

American Board of Orthopedic Surgery, Certificate of Added Qualifications in Hand Surgery
American Osteopathic Board of Orthopedic Surgery, Fellow Certificate of Added Qualification Hand Surgery
American College of ER Physicians

Hospital Privileges

Corewell Health Dearborn
Corewell Health Taylor
Surgeons Choice Hospital