

Anna Y. Babushkina, MD

Dr. Anna Babushkina is a board certified orthopedic surgeon with additional fellowship training in hand and upper extremity conditions.

Dr. Anna Babushkina is a board certified orthopedic surgeon with added qualifications in the care of the upper extremity. She received her medical degree from Georgetown University where she stayed on to complete her orthopedic surgery residency, serving as chief resident. Dr. Babushkina went on to become a clinical instructor at the Harvard Medical School while completing her fellowship in hand surgery at Massachusetts General Hospital through the Harvard Combined Program.

Dr. Babushkina returned to Metro Detroit to be close to family. In her free time, she enjoys spending time outdoors with her husband and children, traveling, and attending local events.

Dr. Babushkina treats a wide range of conditions affecting the upper extremity including nerve compressions, fractures, tendon injury, arthritis, joint injuries and Dupuytren's disease. She is passionate about the care she provides to her patients and consistently receives glowing reviews from patients and colleagues having been named Top Doc in Hour magazine on multiple occasions.

Locations

Farmington Hills Location

32300 Northwestern Hwy, Suite 200 Farmington Hills, MI 48334

Specialty

Hand and Upper Extremity Surgery
Orthopedic Surgery

Medical Education

Georgetown University School of Medicine, Washington, DC, 2007

Residency

Orthopedic Surgery residency, Georgetown University Hospital, Washington, DC, 2008-2012

Fellowship

Hand Surgery Fellowship, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, MA, 2012-2013

Board Certification

American Board of Orthopedic Surgery
Added Qualifications in Surgery of the Hand

Hospital Privileges

Corewell Dearborn
Corewell Farmington
Cornwell Royal Oak
Corewell Troy
Henry Ford St. John Hospital
Henry Ford St. John Macomb/ Oakland

St. Mary Mercy Hospital
Surgeons Choice Hospital